

BAN CARTED DEER HUNTING

An Irish Council Against Blood Sports Campaign. More information at www.banbloodsports.com

"Stags being hunted appear to be terrified of the hounds. Stags are apparently distressed and exhausted towards the end of hunts and will hide. The handling of the stag at the end of a hunt must be terrifying and stressful to the animal."
(Department of Agriculture Veterinary Report)

TAKE ACTION

Please contact the Minister for the Environment and ask him to stop giving a licence to the Ward Union carted deer hunt. Contact: Minister Martin Cullen, Dept of the Environment, Custom House, Dublin 1, Ireland. Tel: 01-888 2000 or Local 1890-202021. Fax: 01-888 2888. Email: minister@environ.irlgov.ie

Carted deer hunting is the hunting of a domesticated deer. There is only one known hunt in the world which practises this blood sport - Ireland's Ward Union Hunt.